

Option 01: Distributed Play Strategy

The diagram opposite shows areas in the estate that could support different types of play. This could include but is not limited to:

- Smaller MUGAs (A)
- Play on the way (B)
- Informal nature play (C)
- Woodland play (D)

Small MUGA (uncaged)

Playful elements on MUGA cage

Play elements next to gable walls

Play on the way

Woodland play

Informal nature play

Basketball hoop

Option 02: Central MUGA

The diagram opposite shows a centralised MUGA and play on the way in the estate. The MUGA in this option is similar in size to the existing one on site.

- MUGA (A)
- Play on the way (B)

Caged MUGA

Caged MUGA

Open MUGA

Graphics painted on floor

Play on the way elements

Social Furniture

Flexible games graphics

Periscope is a spatial design agency focused on regenerative design and public architecture.

We design and deliver resilient projects
that work for people and the planet, grounding our interventions within their greater ecological, topographic and social fabric. In valuing meticulous research, technical rigour and plural voices we seek to meet the challenges of our own and future generations.